

Harrington Grove

Country Club

Lifestyle estate Harrington Grove features oversized homesites nestled in a leafy bushland setting. The real bonus though for Harrington Grove residents is that they all live within a short stroll of their own spectacular Country Club.

Designed to offer leisure and sporting facilities on a grand scale, the Country Club is also a luxurious but welcoming retreat to catch up with friends for a meal or a drink and a lovely place to sit on the balcony with a book whilst enjoying the leafy views.

The magnificent architect designed Country Club offers quality dining, leisure and recreation facilities. There are four rebound ace surface championship tennis courts, a 25 metre swimming pool for keeping fit and active plus a children's paddling pool. A modern well equipped fitness centre offers the latest cardio equipment including treadmills, cross trainers, bicycles and rowing machines and is designed to suit a range of residents' fitness levels. Additional to The Country Club there are two sports centres, Harrington Green and The Orielton, which when complete, will also have pools, hard courts and barbecue facilities.

"Harrington Grove is about community and our Country Club is a fantastic place for residents to get together and enjoy quality fitness and leisure facilities," says Brian Richardson, Sales Manager at Harrington Grove.

Resident tennis enthusiasts are encouraged to become part of the Racquet Club, which is a member of Tennis Australia, and there is a great selection of tennis services available. This is a great opportunity for residents to play against other teams in NSW Tournaments and to participate in a range of different events such as private and group tennis coaching, social and competition tournaments. Harrington Grove's Racquet Club offers coaching programs for adults and children.

For golf lovers there is the Social Golf Club which has 26 members and welcomes new players of all playing standards. Social games are played on a monthly basis at various local courses and the Country Club being the 'home clubhouse.'

Harrington Grove's Country Club is also the venue for many of the residents' social activities and events throughout the year such as regular cocktail parties, where over 100 residents usually attend, and pool deck dining evenings where residents and their guests are invited to enjoy a relaxed dinner by the Country Club pool within the scenic landscaped gardens.

"There is so much to do at Harrington Grove and there is really something for all age groups. We have one family with three generations now all living at Harrington Grove. All three families live within two minutes from each others' places and also a short stroll to the Country Club. What a great way for the kids to grow up", says Mr Richardson.

Harrington Grove's 485 hectare site will comprise some 1400 homesites when complete and will contain a 264 hectare natural bushland forest with beautiful parks connected by more than 7km of scenic walks and cycleways. Residents will love the scenic and picturesque natural surrounds as well as the social, recreation and dining facilities at the Country Club. There really is a fabulous lifestyle on offer at Harrington Grove.
