HARRINGTON GROVE

MICHELIA CLUB OPENING

Michelia Club Officially Opens

Harrington Grove's third and final neighbourhood centre, Michelia Club, has officially opened to roaring approval from the local community.

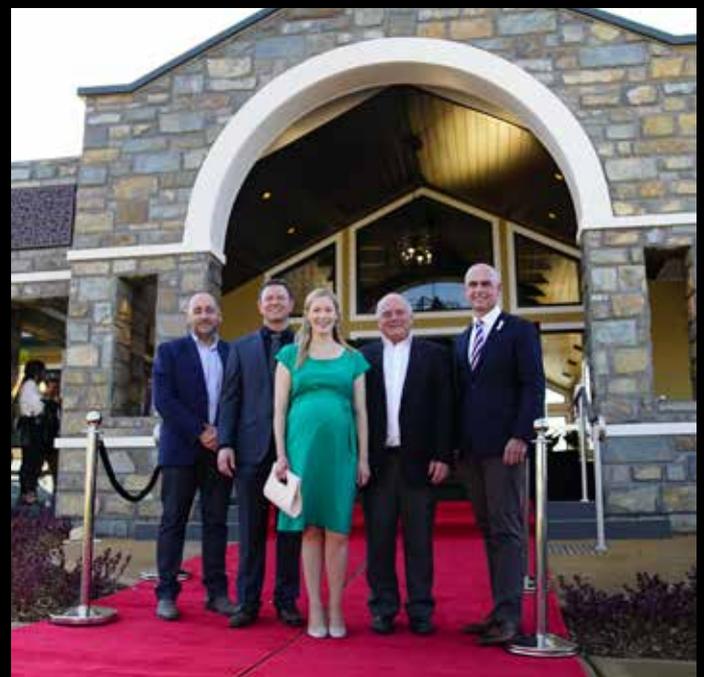

Michelia Club represents the ultimate in class and quality that has become synonymous with Harrington Grove. It contains a full-sized tennis court, swimming pool, barbecue facilities, children's playground, picnic areas, gazebo, communal seating areas and a gymnasium.

"When people go out looking for a homesite or a home, they are looking for the type of lifestyle that they will be afforded, far beyond the bricks and mortar. We have always been driven by the most discerning residents and are always seeking to do what is best for the neighbourhood as well as the greater Camden area," says Terry Goldacre, Managing Director of Harrington Estates.

Lara Symkowiak, Mayor of Camden, has long been impressed with the Harrington Estates ethos. "Congratulations to Terry and Trevor and all of Harrington Estates on a fantastic club here in Harrington Grove. You don't need to look very far in our local government area to see that Harrington Estates really does produce exceptional and quality communities," she says.

Residents were very impressed with the quality and scope of the facilities at the club and turned out in their hundreds to be a part of the grand opening.

The event was attended by Mayor of Camden Lara Symkowiak, Member for Camden Chris Patterson, members of the trustee, council members, residents and other special guests. Following the official addresses from Development Director Trevor Jensen, Mayor of Camden Lara Symkowiak, Member for Camden Chris Patterson and Managing Director Terry Goldacre, the crowd was free to enjoy the facilities and refreshments on offer long into the afternoon.

SPRING IS IN THE AIR

As spring draws nearer there are dreams of longer days and shorter sleeves, lighter meals shared with the light of sunset, warmer mornings and cooler bed covers and a freshness that comes from spending more time outdoors. Here are some suggestions to make the most of the springtime sunshine:

1. Pack a picnic

The best part about a picnic is that with a little bit of organisation, it can be a cheap and cheerful day out. Hark back to simpler times where the great outdoors were more than enough stimulation for the whole family. Pick a new spot and invite some friends as well.

2. Head out into the garden

Now that the winter frosts have gone it is time to grab the gardening gloves and head outside to tend to the garden. Whether planting new trees or shrubs, clearing out the winter weeds or giving the lawn a new lease on life, spring is the time to do it.

3. Get out into the community

Spring brings with it all sorts of new inspiration. The air is warmer, the crowds more energised and vendors are more invigorated. Check out a local market, artisan producer, cafe or restaurant as they often have new spring menus and goods to celebrate the season.

DANCERWOOD HOMESITES NOW AVAILABLE

They are endowed with district views of the Camden Valley panorama and steeped amongst the beautifully lush Harrington Forest, a picturesque backyard that epitomises all the greatest parts of life in Harrington Grove. Highlands Ladies Day Out

The Highlands Ladies Day Out was the perfect opportunity for the ladies of Harrington Grove to spend a day out exploring the beautiful sights of the Southern Highlands. While gorgeous all year round, the Southern Highlands truly sparkle in winter when the gourmet local delights can be completely indulged in.

The ladies enjoyed five different stops which included the finest cheese, wine, food, chocolate and shopping in the area, treating themselves to some wine tasting at local wineries and boutique shopping in Berrima.

The coach was completely full, a testament to how popular the trip was. The outstanding feedback and the level of enjoyment on the day suggests it will be a recurring event on the calendar for years to come.
